INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Directors of
Professional Funds Distributor, LLC
King of Prussia, Pennsylvania

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of Professional Funds Distributor, LLC (the Company) as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, and the related statements of operations and member's equity, and cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2002 and the period from November 16, 2001 (date of inception) to December 31, 2001 that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with U. S. generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Professional Funds Distributor, LLC as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2002 and the period from November 16, 2001 (date of inception) to December 31, 2001 in conformity with U. S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained on pages 7 to 10 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2002 and 2001

(1) ORGANIZATION AND BACKGROUND

Professional Funds Distributor, LLC (the Company), is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers. The Company is a single member Delaware limited liability company.

(2) SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Cash flow information

For purposes of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents include cash deposited in banks and cash invested in money market mutual funds.

Accounts receivable

The Company carries its accounts receivable at cost and establishes an allowance for doubtful accounts based on a history of past write-offs and collections. A receivable is considered past due if payments have not been received by the Company for 90 days. Accounts are written off as uncollectible if no payments are received after 90 days. At December 31, 2002 and 2001, the Company considered accounts receivable to be fully collectible; accordingly, no allowance for doubtful accounts is required.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Income taxes

The Company is not a taxpaying entity for federal or state income tax purposes, and thus no income tax expense has been recorded in the statements. Income of the Company is taxed to the member on his individual tax return.

(3) LETTER OF AGREEMENT

During 2001, the Company entered an initial agreement, via a letter of agreement, with its sole customer to serve as a distributor and principal underwriter to several families of mutual funds operated by that customer. The customer has the option to buy the Company for $1 over book value. A formal agreement is pending.

Per this letter of agreement, the Company is to be reimbursed for all registration fees and other out-of-pocket expenses. Reimbursements from this client totaled $38,245 and $8,989 for the year ended December 31, 2002 and the period from November 16, 2001 (date of inception) to December 31, 2001, respectively.

PROFESSIONAL FUNDS DISTRIBUTOR, LLC
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2002 and 2001

(4) NET CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS

The Company is subject to the SEC Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of a minimum net capital and a ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, not exceeding 15 to 1. At December 31, 2002, the Company has net capital, as defined, of $27,818, which was $22,818 in excess of its minimum required net capital of $5,000. The Company's ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was .17 to 1 as of December 31, 2002.

The Company has complied with the exemptive provisions of SEC Rule 15c3-3(k)(1), limiting business to the distribution of mutual funds and/or variable life insurance or annuities. The Company does not hold customer funds or safekeep customer securities. Therefore, Schedules II and III on pages 8 and 9 are not applicable.

(5) RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

During 2002 and 2001, all administrative services were provided at no cost by a company related through common ownership. During 2002, the Company entered into a servicing agreement with this related party under which it receives professional services. Servicing fees paid under this agreement totaled $24,000 for the year ended December 31, 2002 and have been included in consulting expense.

*Independent Auditor's Report on Internal Control
Required by SEC Rule 17a-5*

Year Ended December 31, 2002

SIANA CARR & O'CONNOR, LLP

CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Directors of
Professional Funds Distributor, LLC
King of Prussia, Pennsylvania

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of Professional Funds Distributor, LLC (the Company) for the year ended December 31, 2002, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons
2. Recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of the Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling that responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2002, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of management, the SEC, the NASD Regulation, Inc., and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
